Economic Development

In a lot of places, like Syria and Lebanon, there are 124 million children and teens that are not in school due to war, illness, poverty and the economy. In a lot of places there can't be school because there is no money, no one wants to work there and there are no supplies. For example, in Bosnia and Serbia there was so much stuff going on that there was no school because of floods, bombings and things being destroyed. There are so many bad things happening in places that there can't be a place for education. With IOCC we can help the kids get an education. Even donating a dollar can help rebuild and help cure illnesses and give better health care and most importantly IOCC can give kids an education to better their futures.
